Wisconsin Guard Engineers At Camp Grayling

A combat battalion of engineers of the Wisconsin National Guard checked off the 1964 field training at Camp Grayling when they were notified to the Grayling-McNamara Air Base from their home field last Saturday. They will be at Camp Grayling for 15 days, leaving here on June 23rd.

The 173rd Engineer Battalion numbers about 500 men and officers. The group will handle considerable construction work at the camp during their two weeks of field training. Work will be concentrated on target areas and squad courses. They will also construct a bridge.

This type of training gives the National Guard engineer a chance to use his skills while at the same time providing the camp with more modern and better implements for training the infantry and other modes of combat.

This coming Saturday, June 13th, armored units of the Indiana National Guard will roll into Grayling by convoys. The armored units will be housed at the Air Base and their training will take place on the Flint-Tank Range north and east of Grayling. The unit will number 300 men and officers.

When the Indiana National Guard armored units leave at the end of their two weeks of field training on June 28th, it will be Guard training for the month of June. On Sunday, July 5th, the first units of Michigan's 44th Infantry Division, Army National Guard will roll into Camp Grayling for training.

Included in the first group are Detroit's 1st Brigade Headquarters, armored units from Detroit, Dearborn, Niles, St. Joseph, Three Rivers, South Haven, Bay City, Alpena, Manistee, and Cadillac, with supporting elements from Marshall, Detroit, Flint, Midland and Howell. The Michigan Military Academy also will conduct its field training work during the same period.

AN EDITORIAL

TAKE A BOW, YOUNG FATHERS!

The Avalanche has just been informed by Little League officials that 140 Grayling boys are taking part in baseball play this far this season. This is fine and we think the fathers are to be commended.

We were also informed that just six fathers are helping with the league play and work. How many want to remain standing? Umpires are needed, ground crews are needed, help of all kind is needed, . . . and where are the fathers of those who play? Of course, the father of each youngster playing can not be expected to be out to the field every night league play is on. He can not, even, be expected to be out there once in a while . . . and he can be expected to assume his fair share of the work that it takes to keep the league going. What's your excuse?

Russell Vallad, Larry McNamara, Robert Sorenson, James Post, and Robert Nelson served as pallbearers.

Two school districts in Crawford County voted in favor of extra operating millage in the annual school elections held in Crawford County on Monday.

The Grayling Public School District of Crawford and Kalkaska counties, besides okaying an extra two mills for one year only for operation of the new elementary school, re-elected Board President Dr. B. Elmore Henig and Robert Smock to the trustee post being vacated by James Baker.

Smock headed the ballot list with a total of 219 with Dr. Henig garnering 216. Carrol Wert, another candidate received 147 votes with Gerald Burns receiving 98 votes and one write-in vote cast for Baker. A total of 401 votes were cast for the trustees with 21 being marked as spoiled. These spoiled ballots were either for using a check mark instead of a cross or for using a personal pen or pencil instead of the one provided in the polls.

The extra millage was okayed by a 223 to 152 vote on proposition one and a 208 to 137 vote on proposition two. Of the 401 votes cast for proposition one 36 votes spoiled and there were 365 votes cast for proposition two with 17 spoiled. Fewer votes were cast for proposition two as it was necessary to be a property owner to cast a ballot on the second proposition.

At Frederic, the school election did not cause too much excitement as only two candidates were on the ballot to succeed themselves and no millage was involved. The Avalanche was advised that unofficially only 17 ballots were cast with Trustees Arthur W. Mayer and Kenneth Newberry both receiving 17 votes for new terms expiring in July, 1968.

At Crawford County Primary Number Three District, or Feldhauser, a vote was taken to keep a four mill extra operational fund alive for another five year period. With only 20 ballots cast, proposition number one was approved 16 to 4 with one ballot spoiled and proposition number two was also approved 15 to 4 with one ballot spoiled.

At the annual meeting held in the evening Juliene Pettyjohn who serves as treasurer of the district school board was re-elected to a three year term.

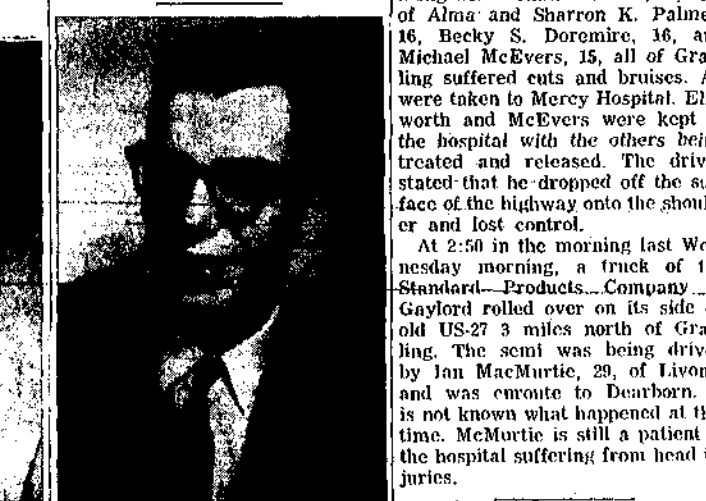

At the annual meeting Monday evening of Beaver Creek School District Number One at the Beaver Creek School, present school district president Cecil Hatfield was re-elected for another term. It was also voted to close the school again for the coming school year and to transport the students to the Grayling Public School. Unfortunately it was said that there was a possibility of another vote this fall on the proposition of the district annexing to the Grayling district.

Grayling GOLF NEWS

How many Crawford County residents realize that the Grayling Golf Club was organized almost 40 years ago?

It happened at a meeting on October 28, 1924 at the Grayling Board of Trade rooms with T. W. Hanson acting as Chairman of the meeting and A. M. Lewis acting as Secretary. A committee to select candidates for Directors was appointed and was composed of A. E. Michelson, Thomas Cassidy, C. T. Kerry. This committee recommended that there be nine directors with three men serving for three years, three serving for two years and three serving for one year. Those elected were Marius

Hanson, Herbert W. Wolff and A. M. Lewis for three years, H. A. Bauman, T. W. Hanson, and Thomas Cassidy for two years and C. T. Kerry, Emil Kraus and M. A. Atkinson for one year.

The following officers were elected: T. W. Hanson, President; H. A. Bauman, Vice-President; A. M. Lewis, Secretary; Marius Hanson, Treasurer.

In addition to the election of officers and directors, the principal items of business were to decide to have articles of incorporation drawn and to consult with a Mr. Paul Whaley, an expert on the construction of golf courses.

More about the problems which confronted these men will appear at a later date.

Currently, the officers and directors of the club are involved with plans to revise the course layout, following the decision made a year ago to develop the course in keeping with the progress and growth of the Grayling area and Crawford County. At that time it was decided to employ the services of Ellis, Arndt & Truesdell of Flint, Michigan, well known golf architects. After several months work and many meetings, the Grayling Country Club now has a complete set of plans for an 18 hole golf course which can be accommodated within the boundaries of the present property. It is a most interesting layout and all members look forward with enthusiasm to the time when the new course becomes a reality.

Sound financing is the big problem so the Architect's plan is designed to permit the construction of 8 holes at a time with a minimum amount of interference with regular play. A new clubhouse, driving range, and additional recreational facilities are all a part of the general plan designed to give Grayling and Crawford County a country club that will give everyone a feeling of pride.

Most everyone knows at least one homemaker who seems to do everything with effortless ease. Her home is always spotless; she belongs to several clubs; she always has time to help with civic projects and activities.

Chances are the only difference between such an individual and the homemaker "who just can't seem to catch up" is in the way they go about doing things.

Many a busy homemaker has learned, for example, that it is wise to shop locally as much as possible. Helping the community grow and prosper, while a good reason, has nothing to do with it. The facts are that just about anything and everything the homemaker needs is available in the local community—at a fair price, and service is prompt and efficient.

Getting what you want, when you want it, is often a matter of nothing more than a phone call. It can make a world of difference to anyone who places value on their time.

Grayling, Michigan, Thursday, June 11, 1964

You CAN Do Something About It!

What if you came back to Grayling some Monday morning after being "down below" for the weekend and found the entire population of the city dead. You'd sure want some answers from the District Health Department, the medical profession and the hospital authorities... and in a hurry too.

Well, that number of people will die this year of 1964 and on the highways of Michigan. The carnage on the State's highways, roads and byways has reached a point where they no longer can be ignored or be condoned.

Yes, YOU can do something about it. And you can do it right here in Grayling and in Crawford County. And it is not too hard to do either.

The next time you see Crawford County Sheriff Arthur Clough, Grayling Chief of Police Harold Hatfield, Jr. or any Deputy Sheriff or City Policeman just walk right up to him and tell him you want the traffic laws of the city or state upheld and that, YOU, as a member of this county or city, stand fully behind such law enforcement. The same with a Michigan State Police trooper... when you see one, tell him how important you think the enforcement of traffic laws is. Let him know that as a member of a civilized society you abhor this murder on the highways.

The same goes for Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson or Probate Judge Beulah Moore or any other person before whom traffic violations hearings are held. Tell these people too, that you as a citizen want these violations dealt with in a most severe manner.

Then, YOU can further help in this crusade by driving yourself as you feel others should. Obey all traffic laws... remember the other fellow and give him a break. Show others the right way to handle their cars and they may try it too. — R. W. S.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCEMENT OF 23 YEARS AGO

June 12, 1941

Emil D. Kraus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kraus of this city, will be among the U. of M. graduates June 21st, with a Bachelor of Laws degree. Emil was born in Grayling and graduated from Grayling High school. Later he graduated from the University of Detroit, before entering Michigan where he attended another four years.

For several years strange noises were heard coming from the marshy area at the southeast end of Shupac lake. Residents of the region around Lovells told of the eerie sounds that were caused by some unnatural force. Old-timers claimed that there was a seepage from Shupac Lake to the lower level of the North Branch of the AuSable river. When the wind was of a certain velocity or when the water was at a particular level a suction was caused in the underground channel that made the resonant sounds. Any mention that the noise might be made by a bird or some other wild creature was disregarded hastily by those who had heard it. Word of the mystery reached the ears of Conservation Officer Lewis Dorman of Grayling. After checking fishermen on the North Branch one evening recently, Officer Dorman drove to Lovells and located one of the residents who was acquainted with the strange sounds. After reaching the shore of the lake and listening for a few minutes the noise was heard. Officer Dorman smiled a bit as he recognized the noise immediately. But to convince his friend they got in a boat and quietly rowed along the edge of the thick willows until they were within a few yards of the noise. As the sound started again the men stood up in the boat. There in front of them with head extended straight up and with its head bobbing up and down as it extended its neck in convulsive jerks, a bittern was pumping its thunder to the sky. There in one brief glance the mystery was cleared and the reason for the name "thunderpumper" by which the bird is commonly known was made plain.

It was caught at the 12-foot hole near Henry Stephan's.

HIS THIRD CADILLAC... HIS FIRST NEW ONE

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car was a never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction—always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously owned Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had held remarkably high... and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than to make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And now or used, your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget. There's never been a better time to invest in the finest of them all.

The Baptist Church received a coat of paint on Saturday. Makes it look nicer. Thanks to all who participated in the job.

The Games Party was a big one again Saturday evening. Nice crowd as well as assortment of baked goods. Next one to be on June 13. Everyone welcome.

Moose Lodge Activities

Friday night was meeting night. At the meeting, Sports committee chairman Art Stephenson asked for volunteers to help with the Little League, as the minor league is very short on coaches. Anyone interested may contact Art, or Bob Golek at the A & P store.

Saturday night there was an enrollment at the lodge. A nice crowd witnessed the enrollment of six new members. The next enrollment date has been set for July 26th by the Holly Ritual team. Our Ritual team goes to Pontiac for an enrollment there, June 21st.

The Ritual team is very happy on the turnouts for the breakfasts the last two Sundays. It is planned to continue with these breakfasts for the next several weeks. Proceeds go to the Ritual team for travel expenses.

Governor of the Lodge, Chuck Steedman, has announced that Saturday evening, June 13th, will be birthday night for the month of June. He is also making a plea for blood donors for the blood bank. Blood is very expensive if you have to buy it. But, if we have blood in our bank at the hospital, it won't cost anything for it, if an emergency arises, and you need it. Usually no one knows ahead of time, when they are going to need a few pints. The next person to need it could be any of us.

It looks as though our picnic won't be held at Log Lake this year, however other places are being studied, and looked into, as possible locations.

More progress was made this past weekend on our new bandstand. It's all enclosed now, and the front door has been changed. The band hopes to start using it next Saturday night. Our thanks to the members who came down every weekend and helped. They are doing a very fine job. They are certainly doing more than their share of the work, and should be recognized for it.

Our congratulations go out to the seniors at Moosehart, who graduated, Saturday, June 6th.

two weeks. Coldwater will be one of their points of attraction.

William Powell finishes his theatrical season for the year, closing at Winnipeg, Ont., and is now with Mrs. Powell, pleasantly settled down at their summer cottage at Lake Margrethe.

Mr. and Mrs. Esbern Hanson are building a fine cottage at Lake Margrethe. This is located on the lot formerly occupied by the old "Log Cabin" that had been the scene of many important events during the past generation. It was in this building that Mr. R. Hanson on October 17, 1912, formally offered the State of Michigan 15,000 acres of land surrounding what was at that time Portage Lake, to be used as a State Military reservation and game preserve. The log cabin is no more, and in its place will stand one of the finest cottages on the lake. The outside of the building will be sided with California redwood.

Charles Wilbur, who has been employed for some time at Morelock, has returned home to Frederic to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Doremire, who have been north for the past six months, have returned to their home in Frederic.

To Enjoy But Not For Picking

Every spring and summer, one of nature's most spectacular acts is the unveiling of wildflowers in all their living beauty. Sadly, however, each year also sees some plants losing ground to the pressures of a sprawling population. Among these are the rare species shown here. Protected by law in an effort to keep them from fading completely out of the Michigan picture are the birdfoot violet, flowering dogwood, trillium, and showy lady's slipper. Although there is no regulation against it, the wild columbine, jack-in-the-pulpit, and trout lily should not be picked because of their scarcity in many parts of the state. There are many other wildflowers which are protected and/or in short supply. Strong public support is urged to preserve them and their shrinking habitat. To learn more about plants which need your help, write to the Conservation Department's Publications Room in Lansing for free copies of "Living Beauty." A color movie of the same title may be borrowed without charge from the Department's film loan service in Lansing.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to the men of the Grayling Fire Department for extinguishing the fire in our home last Tuesday night. Without them we would have certainly lost our home. Their promptness in arriving after our phone call was almost unbelievable, and their courtesy and competence is doubly appreciated.

In Michigan... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst is whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can make your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasant reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Michigan...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

PONY TALES

By
JANET W. OLSON

Let us assume this week that you are the proud owner of a pony. Here are some things I feel are important for you to know. Always walk your pony with you on his left side. This is called his "near side." Never pull your pony from the front or stand in front of him and expect him to walk, if he is a well-mannered pony, and we hope he is, he will be afraid of walking over you. If he isn't well-mannered this is a fine way to be stepped on. Your pony can only think of one thing at a time, if he seems stubborn or more interested in eating grass than walking with you get his head up and turn him in a circle two or three times. This will usually take his mind off of what ever he was thinking about. Handle your pony as much as you can. Brush him each day with a good grooming brush, be sure that he has a well-fitting halter and a good lead rope. A cotton lead rope is best as they are strong yet soft and easy to hold. NEVER wrap a rope around your wrist or arm. Even the most well-mannered pony may jump or shy if it is suddenly frightened and having the rope around your arm could cause you to be hurt. If you walk on the left of your pony with your right hand holding the halter close to the pony's head and the rope in your left hand you should have good control over him at all times.

Let your pony know right from the start that you are boss. He may be stronger than you, but you are smarter and that is what counts. Your pony, like a child, needs a feeling of security and to have this he must have a kind but firm master. Ponies love regularity and it is best to plan a certain time of day for feeding him. You will find that it will be easier for you to have a set time for chores, too.

HINT FOR THE WEEK — When picking up a pony's foot slide your hand down his leg to just above the hoof and lift firmly. It is wise for you to place the foot back on the ground yourself, this way you know where it is going and can have your own feet out of the way. Anyone having a question concerning ponies, may write to Pony Tales, c/o Avalanche and your questions will be answered in the column.

Letters To The Editor

To the parents of the children who marched or rode bikes in the Decoration Day parade:
On a weekend when the country doubles and triples its police force to patrol the highways, why do people send their small children on bikes yet, to cross the highways alone to join the Decoration Day parade? There were many 5 and 6 year olds on bikes with not a mother or father in sight. Thanks to the good brakes and judgement of one lady, a six year old boy was barely missed when he dashed across the highway alone. He left behind two 5 year olds whom I had to go over and help across the highway because I feared for their lives. Many rode their bikes around the Legion building while the cars were trying to drive in and out, dropping off other marchers. One 5 year old was on a tricycle trying to follow the others around the driveway. Where were his parents? I counted between 50 and 60 bike riders that day in the parade. I was the only coward who was afraid to let my 5 year old go alone. So I walked along side of her.
I realize that many had older brothers and sisters who were probably supposed to watch the little ones. But you know yourself, how fast a small one can travel on foot when you turn your back on them for a minute. Think how much faster they go on a bike. The greatest danger was before and after the parade, not during it. Pop and ice cream were given to the children after the parade. This was real nice, but, how many parents watched the children push so tight against the door that Mr. Jorgenson could not get it open to let them in. How many watched the big kids shove the little ones back so they could get in first? While around 150 kids were waiting to get in, how many parents were there to keep a little order? Just two sets of parents was all. I guess there were others sitting in their cars. But how many got out to give a hand? I didn't see any. Next year wouldn't it be nice if we were to have a few mothers and fathers around before and after the parade, just to keep an eye on their own and those whose parents don't seem to care?
